DID YOU KNOW?

Still looking for off-campus housing? It's not too late! While many properties are filling up, housing options are still available and students can also explore sublease listings on the Off-Campus Housing website for additional options that may fit their needs.

WHO'S WHO AT UNC CHARLOTTE

Sophie Davis

Associate Director of Programs (UREC)

Can you share a little about your role with University Recreation and how your programs support student wellness and connection?

"In my role with University Recreation as the Associate Director of Programs, I support programs and services that enable students to prioritize their physical and mental well-being. Through programming, events, and engagement initiatives, we work to build community and help students feel connected to campus and to each other."

What recreation resources or opportunities do you encourage off-campus students to take advantage of to stay engaged on campus?

"I encourage off-campus students to explore University Recreation and take advantage of everything we have to offer that speaks to them. Whether it is Aquatics, Intramural Sports, Sport Clubs, Group Fitness classes, Personal Training for those just starting their fitness journey, or our EGYM equipment designed for all levels, there is truly something for everyone."
